DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments with respect to claim 3 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 3 and 5-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 3 is indefinite because its not clear what is meant by “deleting a number after a call to that number has been completed”. Specifically, which number is deleted and where is the number deleted from. Examiner is unclear as to what is the relationship between the deleting process and storing process, if there is any. Which number is deleted and where is it deleted from. Is the number, whichever number the claim may be referring to, completely deleted from the memory and if so, why would a user want a number deleted out of memory once that number is called. In other words, is applicant being his/her own lexicographer by using the word “deleting” to mean “skipping” or “deleting the entry of the call” as suggested by the specification (page 5, lines 8-16). There is a clear difference between “deleting a number” and “deleting the entry of the call”.

Art Unit: 2684

Claim 3 recites the limitation "dialing the numbers" in line the 3rd line of the claim.

Furthermore, claim 3, recites the limitation "to that number" in line 6th line of the claim.

It is not clear which number applicant is referring to. There is no apparent correlation that creates a direct relationship with "a number" or "telephone numbers" or "numbers" seen throughout the claims. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.
